I am writing to register my extreme disquiet that future plans for the Wimbledon Library site have 'been out for consultation' for several months without the general public or even the majority of Councillors being aware of the implications.

I accept Councillor Andrew Judge's assurances that there is no immediate threat to library provision ,but as his stated intention is to make sure that any future council has its options open (verbally to me this morning) I am certain that it is essential to defend an important community space.
