'Working Together to Safeguard Children' 2015, Chapter 3, (<http://www.education.gov.uk/aboutdfe/statutory/g00213160/working-together-to-safeguard-children>.)

continues to enforce the functions of LSCBs under Regulation 5 1(a)(ii) in relation to:

- the training of persons who work with children or in services affecting the safety and welfare of children (pg59)
- the monitoring and evaluation of the effectiveness of training, including multi-agency training, to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. (Chapter 3.2, pg. 60).

However, in the absence of any further Government guidance on training, the London Safeguarding Children Board adopted Competence Still Matters 2015 in respect of the training and development of staff and volunteers across London, with the view to enable them to effectively safeguard and promote the welfare of children http://www.londonscb.gov.uk/training_subgroup/

Competence Still Matters groups audiences together based on their degree of contact with children and/or parents/carers and their levels of responsibility. There are eight groups which are:

1. Those who have occasional contact with children, young people and/or parents/carers.
2. Those in regular or in intensive but irregular contact with children, young people and/or parents/ carers.
3. Those who work predominantly with children, young people and/or parents/ carers.
4. Those who have particular specialist child protection responsibilities.
5. Professional advisers and designated leads for child protection.
6. Operational managers of services for children, young people and/or parents / carers.
7. Senior managers responsible for strategic management of services for children, young people and/or parents/carers.
8. Members of Local Safeguarding Children Boards.

Using the following tables

The following tables detail the eight staff groups and the minimum training requirements in respect of each group.

Employers should use the tables to ensure that all relevant employees and volunteers receive timely, appropriate training whether provided in-house, by their LSCB or by other training providers.

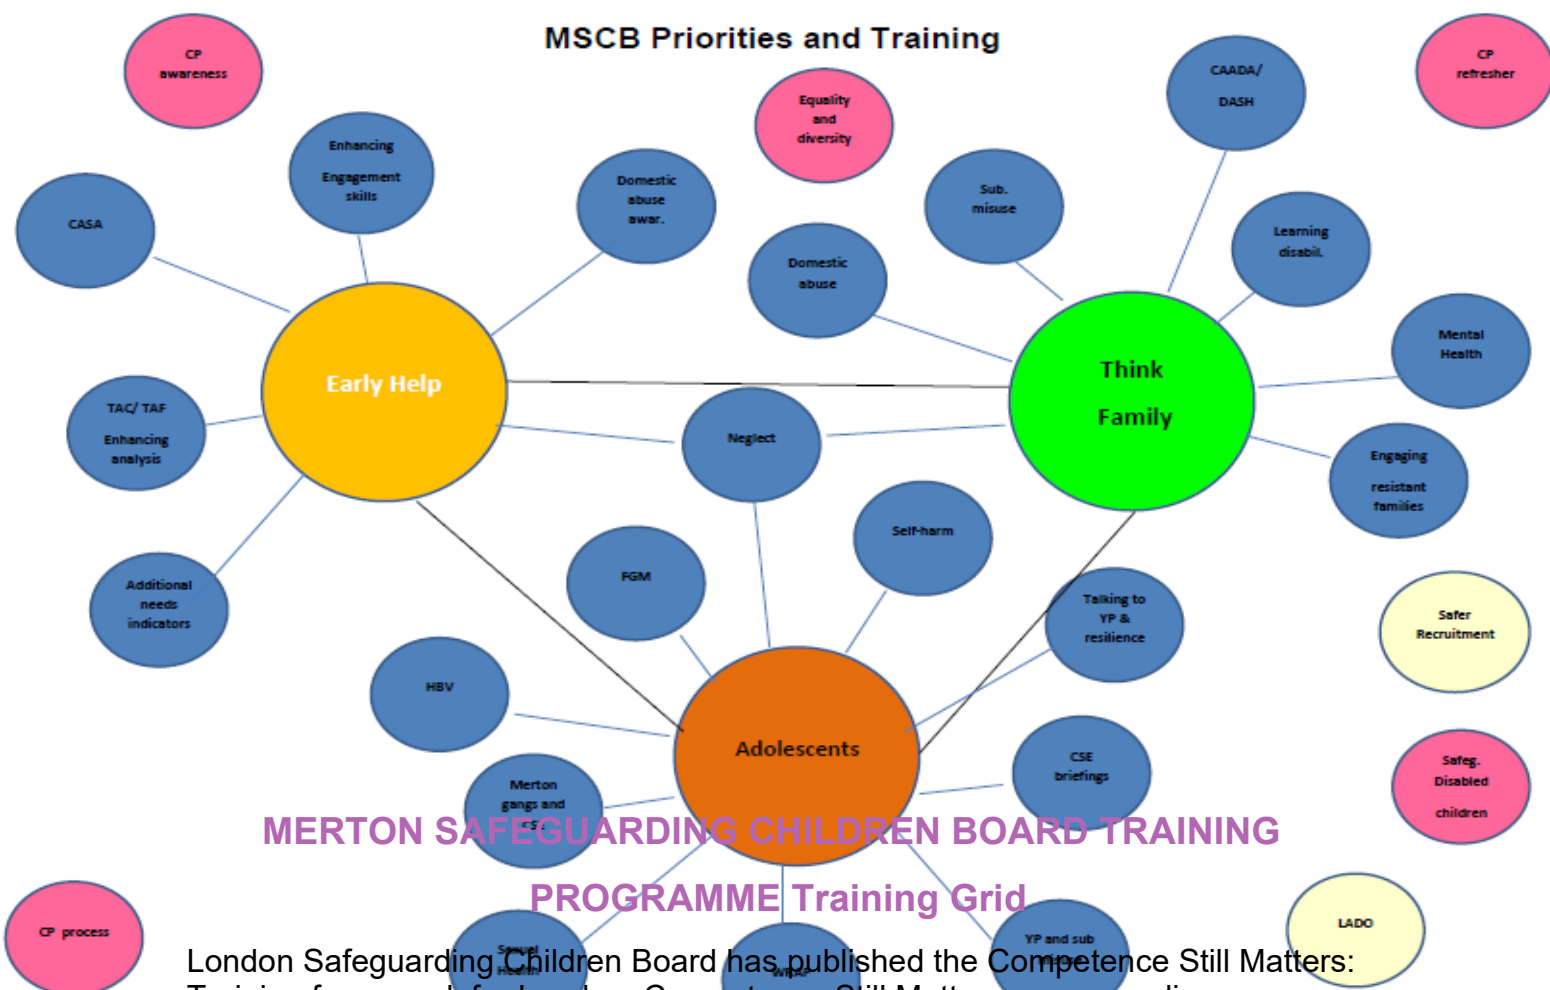

LSCBs should use the tables to inform the development of any local, multi-agency training programme. The tables can also be used when developing audit tools to measure the quantity and quality of single and multi-agency training provision within any borough.

When using the tables to design single or multi-agency programmes or training events, the focus should be on the outcomes indicated against the content for each of the eight groups.

When designing training programmes, employers and LSCBs should ensure that specific or specialist topics are covered (for example, impact of parental mental health, domestic violence, substance misuse, sexual exploitation). Training programmes should be continually revised to ensure the inclusion of ongoing lessons from research, Serious Case Reviews and government inquiry reports.

MERTON SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN BOARD's PRIORITIES

MSCB Priorities and Training

London Safeguarding Children Board has published the Competence Still Matters: Training framework for London. Competence Still Matters groups audiences together based on their degree of contact with children and their parents and level of responsibility. There are 8 groups as follows:

GROUP	ROLE/FUNCTIONS
Group 1	Staff in infrequent contact with children, young people and/or parents/carers who may become aware of possible abuse or neglect. For example, librarians, GP receptionists, community advice centre staff, grounds men, recreation assistants, environmental health officers.
Group 2	Those in regular contact or have a period of intense but irregular contact, with children, young people and/or parents/carers including all health clinical staff, who may be in a position to identify concerns about maltreatment, including those that may arise from the use of EHAP. For example, housing, hospital staff, YOT staff and staff in secure settings, the police other than those in specialist child protection roles, sports development officers, disability specialists, faith groups, community youth groups, play scheme volunteers.
	Members of the workforce who work predominantly with children, young people and/or their parents/carers and who could potentially contribute to assessing planning, intervening and reviewing the Group 3	needs of a child and parenting capacity where there are safeguarding concerns. For example, paediatricians, GPs, youth workers, those working in the early years sector, residential staff, midwives, school nurses, health visitors, sexual health staff, teachers, probation staff, sports club welfare officers, those working with adults in, for example, learning disability, mental health, alcohol and drug misuse services, those working in community play-schemes.

Group 4	Members of the workforce who have particular responsibilities in relation to undertaking section 47 enquiries, including professionals from health, education, police and children's social care; those who work with complex cases and social work staff responsible for co-ordinating assessments of children in need. Professional advisors, named and designated lead professionals.
Group 5	Professional advisors, named and designated lead professionals.
Group 6	Operational managers at all levels including: practice supervisors; front line managers and managers of child protection units.
Group 7	Senior managers responsible for the strategic management of services; NHS board members.
Group 8	Members of the LSCB including: board members; independent chairs; directors of children's services; elected members; lay members; members of executive and sub/task groups; business support team; inter-agency trainers.

Throughout our programme, courses are coded to facilitate professionals access to the training most relevant to them in relation to their roles and responsibilities.

The Merton Safeguarding Children Board, provides multi-agency training and the responsibility for single agency safeguarding children training remains with individual agencies.

Basic Awareness Courses (BA) are suitable for professionals in Groups 1 and 2 or as induction courses for staff new to the Borough. (These include CASA training, Introduction to Child Protection and Child Protection and Child Protection Refresher training)

Core Courses (CC) are essential requirements for practitioners in groups 3 and 4.

Specialist Courses (SC) focus on specialist safeguarding topics. These can be accessed by professionals from groups 3-8. They can be also accessed as part of refresher requirements for professionals who have already attended Basic Awareness and Core training.

Briefings (BRF) on research, messages from case reviews, Serious Case Reviews and updates on local and national Guidance and Legislation will take place on a quarterly basis and open to all staff

Please also refer to the London Competency Framework .
